

HOME AUTOMATION PRODUCTS MAKE IT EASY

By: Greg Rhoades, Marketing/Website Coordinator, Home Automation, Inc.

Home automation products will keep you safe, manage your energy consumption and comfort and provide home entertainment — all in a coordinated and easy to use manner.

Home control begins with security and ends with the user interface. The security system already knows your schedule and tracks movements, so why not use that information to your advantage?

On the way out the door, press one button on your security keypad or Touchscreen to turn off every single light in the house, turn off all audio/video components, lower or raise the temperature and more.

Automate exterior and foyer lights to turn on at dusk, landscape irrigation to occur only when it hasn't rained, drapes to rise in the morning and lower at night, etc. Create a safe exit during an emergency, and flash exterior lights to alert response vehicles.

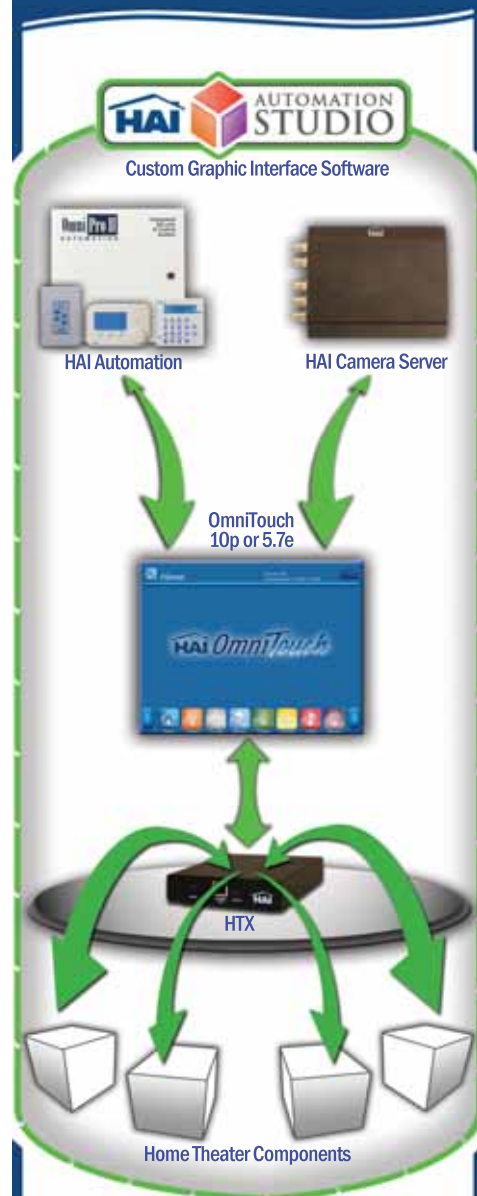

The most popular user interface is the Touchscreen. Customizable user interfaces can incorporate control of audio/video, temperatures, lighting and considerably more, including the addition of floorplans, dealer logos, and custom foreign languages.

Remote access is increasingly important, allowing you to monitor and make changes to your home from anywhere in the world. View surveillance cameras of your boat dock, turn on lights in appropriate areas, or just double check that you turned on the security system.

It's important to plan for the future and to select a control system that allows for connectivity between multiple manufacturers' products. Multiple systems exist to ensure the proper fit for any lifestyle and budget.

HAI once again advances home control.

The Touchscreen Product Suite

A complete union of home automation products utilizing an in-home network for convenience and fidelity.

www.homeauto.com