Feature-Rich Unity Home System With Selective Call Intercom

ADI offers Legrand's breadth of innovative home solutions including their Unity Home System and Selective Call Intercom. These advanced communication products are easy to install and allow customers the ability to open up the lines of communication within the household. The Unity Home System allows installers to easily custom name each Selective Call Intercom Station to the owners' liking. For homeowners with young children, stations can be grouped together to allow several rooms to be paged at the push of a button. With the Selective Call Intercom, residence can choose to privately call up a room of their choice or page the entire house. What's more, installers can integrate a camera with any Selective Call Intercom Station in the home to be able to see and hear what's going on throughout the house all from a 7" LCD console.
